

Permutation Analysis: Two and three year old children use an incremental first-NP-as-agent bias to process transitive sentencee

Kirsten Abbot-Smith, Franklin Chang, Caroline Rowland, Heather Ferguson, Julian Pine

Abstract

Permutation analysis for eyetracking study

Citation: Kirsten Abbot-Smith, Franklin Chang, Caroline Rowland, Heather Ferguson, Julian Pine Permutation Analysis: Two and three year old children use an incremental first-NP-as-agent bias to process transitive sentencee. protocols.io
<https://www.protocols.io/view/permutation-analysis-two-and-three-year-old-childr-ju6cnze>

Published: 18 Sep 2017

Protocol

The R scripts for running the analysis are available here

Step 1.

 LINK:

<https://sites.google.com/site/sentenceproductionmodel/permutationanalysis>

Step 2.