

Create a class Github repository

Bonnie Hurwitz, Ken Youens-Clark

Abstract

The github repository will serve as a location for you to turn-in your homework, and allow the instructors to push back code modifications and suggestions.

Before start

Sign up for a free Github account

Protocol

Step 1.

Login to <http://github.com>

Step 2.

Click on "Repositories"

Step 3.

Click on "New"

Step 4.

Enter "abe487" (lowercase, please) for the "Repository name".

Click "Initialize this repository with a README" so it won't be empty. If you don't do this, then remove it and recreate.

Step 5.

Click on "Settings"

Step 6.

Click on "Collaborators" on the left (confirm password if prompted).

Step 7.

Enter "kyclark" and hit "Add collaborator" so that I can make changes to your code.
