

Qiime 2 Workflow - Longitudinal study ↗

PLOS One

Carlotta Catozzi¹, Anna Cusco²

¹University of Milan and Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, ²Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona

dx.doi.org/10.17504/protocols.io.ucpesvn

Carlotta Catozzi
University of Milan

ABSTRACT

This workflow was performed using QIIME2 for a longitudinal study. The aim was to investigate the changes in microbiota after antibiotic and Lactobacillus rhamnosus treatment in water buffaloes affected by subclinical mastitis.

EXTERNAL LINK

<https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0210204>

THIS PROTOCOL ACCOMPANIES THE FOLLOWING PUBLICATION

Catozzi C, Cuscó A, Lecchi C, Carlo ED, Vecchio D, Martucciello A, D'Angelo L, Francino O, Bonastre AS, Ceciliani F (2019) Impact of intramammary inoculation of inactivated Lactobacillus rhamnosus and antibiotics on the milk microbiota of water buffalo with subclinical mastitis. PLoS ONE 14(1): e0210204. doi: 10.1371/journal.pone.0210204

Workflow_Longitudinal_study_QIIME2.pdf

PROTOCOL STATUS

Working

This is an open access protocol distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original author and source are credited